WANT TEN THOUSAND TALK ON SENATORSHIP

What National Council of Conduc- Speculation As to Who Might Be tors Will Cost.

SALT LAKE MAY GET IT NO OCCASION FOR HASTE

COMMITTEE TO SOLICIT SUB- GOVERNOR WELLS WILL WAIT SCRIPTIONS THIS WEEK.

Discussed at Yesterday's Many Politicians Think If Quay Is Meeting of the Sait Lake Division -Energetic Work to Be Done By Special Committee - Will Bring Many Visitors to the City.

The Salt Lake division of the Order of Railway Conductors held its regular meeting yesterday and spent several hours discussing the possibility of bringing to Sait Lake in 1991 the bien-nial meeting of the grand council of the United States under Governor Stone order. A committee of five, composed of Pennsylvania in the senate of the United States under Governor Stone's appointment. The reason for this unanimity among Mark Hanna's followers is that if Matthew is seated, Governor Wells will immediately name a side partner for Senator Rawlins. Already the discussion as to who shall wear the toga in the event that the plan goes through, is being carried on with some vigor, One name as heard more frequently than others. It pierces the babble of speculation like the blare of a trumpet sounding assembly. The name is George Q. Cannon and in some quarters it is regarded as practically certain that Governor Wells will appoint him.

The churchman is not the only timber in the woods, however. There is a considerable covey of other material. For instance, Artie Thomas grows chesty every time anybody says senator in his hearing. While nearly any toga would have to be tucked up before he could keep it from trailing on the ground, the postmaster would be willing for the reef to be taken.

George Sutherland is considered the logical candidate by a great many Republicans. Mr. Sutherland was voted for oftener than any other member of the party during the late unpleasantness. Se if that is to be considered, he is the logical man.

On the other hand George Q. Cannon came a whole lot nearer winning than Mr. Sutherland did. The attorney's votes were given him without any hope of his winning. The ballots cast for President Cannon were deposited with more than a fighting chance of success. Whether Governor Wells will decide the question on the number of votes or on the faith with which they were cast is an open question. He may not consider either George Q. or George Sutherland.

Former Senator Cannon is out of the fight on his own declaration. It will Messrs, Corner, Fenton, Pilgerum, Kelter and Arles, has been appointed to canvass the situation in the city.
During the past week there has been much active work done on the matter, and from every one whom the members of the order approached they received the greatest encouragement. This week the committee will set to work to see how much cash can be raised in the city. It is believed that at least $10,000 will be needed, but assurances have been obtained that already make it seem almost certain that this sum can be easily raised.

Delegate Keiton will leave Salt Lake to attend the meeting at Detroit on May 4, and before he goes it is the intention to get matters in such shape that formal invitations may be conveyed by him to the grand council irom both Governor Wells and Mayor Clark, setting forth the advantages of Salt Lake as the lext convention site. ter and Aries, has been appointed to

A special meeting of the Salt Lake division of the order will be held next. Sunday afternoon at which Mr. Kelton will be given his final instructions. The national council will be attended by at least 2,000 people, and it usually remains in session about thirty days.

Western Union Officials Think the Postal Company Will Postpone Construction of Utah Line.

J. J. Dickey and B. Brooks, the Omaha Western Union officials, are in the city, on their periodic four of the intermountain country, inspectof the intermonnialn country, inspecting the offices under their jurisdiction.
Mr. Brooks said last evening that the Western Union was not planning any extensive improvements in its local lines at present, save in the matter of the Utah & Pacific railroad. Their southern connections would be pushed on, he said, as fast as the new road was constructed.

on, he said, as fast as the new road was constructed.

Speaking of the contemplated move of the Postal Telegraph company into Utab, Mr. Brooks stated that he believed the matter was off for the present. "I was talking a short time ago with a prominent Postal Telegraph official in Denver," he said, "and he was inclined to be secretive and to give me the impression that there was something in the proposed move. The Postal Telegraph directorate voted $500,000 about two years ago for the express purpose of extending west from Denver, but after the company had looked more closely into the country they were planning to penetrate they decided to wait a Mt. The truth is, it would not pay them to come out here. There isn't a station between Cheyenne and Orden, on the Union Pacific, and Leadville and Sait Lade, on the Rio Grande Western, where they could get business enough to pay the salary of an operator. What business there is the Western Union has already, and they would cat linto our business but very little. So I am of the opinion that they will not build in here for some years yet, for it and Burlington.

Cheyenne, April 22.—The private car of Ed Dickinson, which was sent to Badger, on the Cheyenne & Northern, a few days ago to meet the general manager and his party of Union Pacific oilicials, who were driving up the Platteriver in wagons from Sidney, Neb. to river in wagons from Sidney, Neb. to Hartville, Wyo, returned to Cheyenne tonight and was sent to Rock Creek station, near the Medicine Bow river. The officials continued on through Hartville in their wagons and are now inspecting the Hallock canyon route, through the Laranie mountains.

A report reached Cheyenne today that the Union Pacific has already laid rulls in Hallock canyon, to cinch that right of way. Another report says that the Burlington is trying to negotiate for the purchase of the Cheyenne & Northern, this being one of the trump cards in the game now being played by the Burlington and Union Pacific roads for the best and most feasible line across Wyoming.

Former Senator Cannon is out of the fight on his own declaration. It will be remembered that the Ogden man said with some heat that he would not accept the appointment at Governor Wells hands. The statement was made while the campaign was at the boiling point. The ex-senator may have experienced a change of heart since then, but Governor Wells is likely to take him at his word just the same.

Arthur Brown is a possibility, although a remote one. Mr. Brown has tasted the sweets of a senatorial career, and would not be averse to trying it again. If the lightning hits him, be'll try hard to bear up. There are others who, in a modest, unassuming way will attempt to draw the plum for themselves.
